Parker Hall has been recording details of early Ferrari automobiles for many years. He is an esteemed judge who has attended many events to share his knowledge.

He started Kilimanjaro Designs, a company that recorded and recreated many of the decals and tags that adorn various parts in and around the engine compartment and body.

Parker has put much of his knowledge into this new book. If you want to know exactly what label should be in, or on, your Ferrari, this guide will help you gain those last couple points at a concours.

This book is filled with photos and descriptions of each component, often describing when changes were made to production so you could be sure you have the correct item on your Ferrari.
